

Social Security

Form 1041 shows the amount of social security tax withheld. This form was filed with the 1962 income tax return. The 1962 rate is 3 percent. It is important to know if the correct amount was withheld on your 1962 return.

The Social Security Administration also has a "check card" form, OAS-7004, which is available on request. By completing and mailing this card, a statement of earnings is furnished which shows whether a social security record reflects the correct amount of earnings. It's especially important to do this if you have several different employers over a period of time.

Anyone who has questions about social security should get in touch with his nearest social security office. The social security office in this area is located at 1022 32nd Ave., Gulfport, Mississippi.

Dr. Albert Sabin, who developed the polio vaccine, is the pioneer of the vaccine. The vaccine requires three doses a month apart, each using a different strain of live viruses to combat each type of polio.

The Salk vaccine, using dead virus and injected with a needle, is recommended given in three doses a month apart, the third, seven months later, plus a booster shot after a year.

The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N. Y.

The first mass tests of the vaccine were conducted in 1960 in the Miami area where it was administered usually in a cherry-flavored syrup to 414,000 persons. Health officials there said paralytic polio cases dropped to zero afterward.

Another test was conducted in the Tampa, Fla., area last year, Lederle said in a statement that

U.S. APPROVES NEW SHORT CUT ORAL POLIO VACCINE

WASHINGTON — The government has approved a new short-cut oral polio vaccine designed to give quick, simultaneous immunity against all three types of polio.

A license for the three-in-one vaccine, combining strains of the Sabin oral polio vaccine, was granted to Lederle Laboratories, a spokesman for the U. S. surgeon general's office said Tuesday night.

In a statement, Lederle said that in addition to reducing the complexity of administering oral polio vaccine, the new product gives "active immunity against all three types of polio after the first feeding, and more complete protection after the second feeding eight weeks later."

The pioneer oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati requires three doses a month apart, each using a different strain of live viruses to combat each type of polio.

The Salk vaccine, using dead virus and injected with a needle, is recommended given in three doses a month apart, the third, seven months later, plus a booster shot after a year.

The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N. Y.

The first mass tests of the vaccine were conducted in 1960 in the Miami area where it was administered usually in a cherry-flavored syrup to 414,000 persons. Health officials there said paralytic polio cases dropped to zero afterward.

Another test was conducted in the Tampa, Fla., area last year, Lederle said in a statement that supply of the vaccine, which is called Trivalent oral polio vaccine, is already available. The production has been geared up to meet demand expected in the fall.

Last year the Sabin vaccine stirred up a controversy after about 15 persons who had received it came down with paralytic polio.

But in December, after weeks of study, a special advisory committee of U. S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry had urged Americans to use the Sabin vaccine.

Committee experts estimated the chances of a million to one that the vaccine's live viruses might cause paralytic polio.

NASA. News.

GAINESVILLE, Miss. — Two key officials of the General Electric Company visited the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center's Mississippi Test Operations Tuesday.

General Electric is now negotiating with the Marshall Center for the support contract for the Mississippi rocket testing facility.

W. R. Eaton and W. A. Roy, of General Electric, were accompanied by the Mississippi site from Huntsville by William C. Fortune, MTO manager; and Charles Palmer, of the Facilities Engineering Office at Marshall.

Eaton and Roy are at the site in Hancock County on a general orientation visit. Fortune is showing them construction projects in progress and buildings on the 13,500 acre "main complex" that could be converted for office space.

NASA announced April 16 that it would negotiate with General Electric for an "extensive" Project Apollo support effort to provide plant and test support services at MTO.

MTO, now under construction, will be a $500 million rocket testing facility where NASA will static fire engines and stages of the giant Saturn V Apollo Moon Rocket. The site covers 13,500 acres in Hancock County, Miss., with 128,000 acres of "buffer" land surrounding it in Hancock and Pearl River Counties, Miss., and St. Tammany Parish.

Huntsville, Ala. — T. L. James and Co., Inc., Ruston, La., received a $123,720 contract this week for dredging the East Pearl River near the NASA-Marshall Space Flight Center's Mississippi Test Operations in Hancock County, Miss.

one-mile section, 13 feet deep and 150 feet wide, will be dredged in the East Pearl River south of the former site of Gainesville, Miss., to provide a navigational channel for the rocket testing site.

The job will include cutting off a bend in the river to straighten the channel.

Barge transportation will be the principal means of moving huge rockets from assembly plants to the test facility for captive firing and then to Cape Canaveral for launching.

The James firm is also dredging a barge harbor and access channel at the NASA facility. The firm received the $688,340 award in May.

Work planned at the Mississippi facility includes dredging the East Pearl River downstream to its junction with the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, building a lock to lift the barges 20 feet from the river level to the site's canal system, and excavating a canal system to serve various test stands.

Army Engineers are acting as NASA's agent for land acquisition and construction of the testing center.

Blasted misqu Coastal Rain. Rain, rain, was the cry of almost everyone in the county for about a month. We got the rain but didn't count on the mosquitoes. It made everything over the weekend seem impossible. But no handicap can keep a good sport down.

In spite of this plague many went on with the weekend as always. Except for the insect spray nothing seemed different.

Battle between champions is a game many are still talking about and rightly so because it contained the two top teams in the league, Trapani's and Southern Realty.

It was a do or die game for both teams who went into it with a 5-1 record. Southern Realty took it after 10 innings of sweating 8-7. From the sixth inning it was a scoreless game until Charlie Taravouille hit a long grounder which was missed by the fielder and turned into a home run for the lucky run to win the game.

A new man for Trapani's who has what it takes is Jimmy Ryan, who is doing quite well. He is a good hitter and all round ball player, it would do to keep an eye on him.

Is the CYO team lucky or are they good? Luck helps when you're trying to stay at the top but you can't rely on it always and the CYO doesn't. An impression was made by these gallant young men at the beginning of the season and though they have fallen a little they are still very impressive and are pulling up all the time to show they mean the difference between a win or a loss watching them for an evening won't be wasted.

Want to know more about the CYO team? Write to Michael Lang, c/o Hancock County Eagle, P.O. Box 100, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39320. This column is now featuring this team which will be a help to everyone. And by knowing your fishermen, hunters, etc. you'll be able to pick up a few helpful hints.

Beautiful New Ceiling

Armstrong CLASSIC CUSHIONTONE

Never before a perforated scoustical ceiling so perfect for any room in your home! Yet Classic Cushiontone costs no more than ordinary Perforated ceiling tiles. It costs only $27.72 for an average 10' x 12' room, and you can easily install it yourself.

Best of all, Classic Cushiontone is easy to live with. Washable and repaintable, it requires no more care than an ordinary ceiling. It's more permanent than plaster, too, because it won't crack, chip, or peel. Other Armstrong ceilings start as low as 90¢ per sq. ft.

THE BOOK AND THE FLAG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Behind the open Book, we see the Star-Spangled Banner of the United States and the cross-borne flag of Christianity.

Does this seem like a strange combination to you—the flag of a nation beside the flag of a religion?

Not at all! Look into the Bible and see these great truths: MAN IS THE CHILD OF A LOVING GOD; WE ARE MADE IN GOD'S IMAGE. Here is explained the DIGNITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

Now we begin to realize how close is the relation between democracy and the Church.

Our national flag, our church flag would not be here today were it not for the open Book.

Come learn of this Book. Come worship and study in the church of your choice this Sunday.

The wedding, officiated by Rev. Joseph Barth of King's Chapel, Boston, took place in the Mary Martha Chapel on the grounds of Longfellow's Wayside Inn.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length gown of white peau de soie which was fashioned with an upper bodice of Chantilly lace, creating a bolero effect, a sheath front which featured a wide band of Chantilly lace and floral design of seed pearls, and a full shirred back skirt. Her matching open crown of lace and pearls accented the fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies.

Miss Vicki Greulach, of Boston and Chapel Hill, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a yellow gown with fitted lace bodice and bell-shaped skirt of tissue taffeta.

The bride's niece, Miss Elizabeth Herbert, of Vienna, Va., was the flower girl. Her full skirted yellow dress was topped with a white eyelet pinafore. Miss Herbert and Miss Greulach carried bouquets of yellow shasta daisies and wore matching crowns of miniature shasta daisies.

INCREASE IN HIGHWAY DEATHS BLOT ON RECORD

"The staggering and unrestrained increase in highway deaths so far in 1963 is a blot on the record of every traffic enforcement officer in the state of Mississippi," said Lewis Graeber, President of the Mississippi Safety Council.

The Safety Council official stated that the 288 killed in 1963 through June 29th represented an almost unbelievable 28 per cent increase over the number killed during the same period in 1962.

"Such an increase can only be attributed to the lack of enforcement of our laws by the officers throughout the state and a corresponding lack of respect for the laws by the motoring public," Graeber said.

In an unusually strong statement Graeber said the citizens of the state can no longer afford to sit idly by and see the highways and streets continue to be bathed in the blood of its people.

"Each one, somehow, the top government officials must be made aware of their responsibility to the motoring public."

Commenting further, the Safety Council President said that unless the present trend is reversed a total of 700 people will be killed in Mississippi traffic during 1963. This would break an all time record.

"This trend can be reversed," Graeber said, "but it will take a demand by the people to its enforcement officers, and this demand must be made, beginning with the constables and proceeding to the highest enforcement authorities in the state."

Graeber stated that the lack of enforcement must not be attributed completely to the enforcement officers.

"Enforcement - impartial enforcement - is present whenever and wherever public opinion is in favor of enforcement," he said.

"This public opinion must endorse the efforts of the enforcement officer and it must stand behind the decisions of its traffic courts."

Graeber said the traffic laws were developed and enacted for the protection of all people and they must be applied to ALL people fairly and impartially.

"Whenever a superior officer tears up a traffic ticket, or a court frees or fails to convict an obviously guilty violator, this acts as a slap in the face to the traffic enforcement officer and under such circumstances it is no wonder he becomes lax in his efforts to enforce the very laws he is sworn to uphold," he said.

Graeber said most of the police officers - including the Highway Patrolmen - were men of the highest caliber.

"They want to do a good job," he said, "and the people of Mississippi must assist them by demanding impartial enforcement of our traffic laws."

Graeber said many changes must be made in the existing traffic code, but the changes would require legislative action.

"In the meantime," he said, "we must use every lawful resource available to reduce the highway traffic deaths, and it can be done by laws and impartial enforcement of our traffic laws."

ARCENEUX'S RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux arrived home Friday from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gatti, and children in Kenosha, Wis.

While there Mr. Arceneaux accompanied his son-in-law and A. Anderson, assistant Superintendent of Public Works, Ray Hermann, Department of Public Works and Paul Runge of the Engineering Department of Kenosha City Hall, on a fishing trip into the wilds of Canada, over 800 miles north of Kenosha. Their camp is located on Cedar Lake.

Mr. Arceneaux said "the weather was pleasant, warm in the day and very cold at night - long days with daylight at 11 p. m."

"Fishing was wonderful," he added, and he reported a large catch of northern pike, wall eyes bass and perch. In addition to fishing he took numerous pictures of deer, moose and wild ducks.

It is rather hard to predict just how fishing is each week with the tides changing regularly. As far as fresh water fish they were not striking too hot over the weekend. Of course a few are always caught but not like most fishermen would want them too.

The green trout now being caught are running rather small and a real sportsman throws the little ones back. But many will hand you that old stuff, I love to eat the little ones. How can they grow to be big ones if you keep fingerlings? Throw them back and catch them when they get larger.

Soft crabs have also been scarce. Tides out too early. A few catches were reported. With the full moon coming soon soft crabbing should improve. Floundering has been fairly good but the time for getting them is limited as the difference between low and high tides has been only a few hours.

Joe and Lloyd Graff's Sea food business - sells soft crabs both wholesale and retail. The boys make Bay St. Louis each week and by calling WB-7-6289 at Kenner, La., you can make arrangements for them to bring some over for you if you cannot catch your own. Graff's Seafood specializes in "Kings" for those who like the big ones.

For those who have not visited Bayside Country Club on Highway 90 they have missed a treat. The restaurant and lounge under the management of Tony Moran, son of the former Diamond Jim Moran and open each day from 11:00 a. m. to 10 p. m. Tony says he specializes in the Roman type food and U. S. Sirloins and filets. The club is a new addition to this section. Tony plays golf and is an ardent fisherman.

Wop Glover was over last weekend doing some fishing. Haven't heard how he made out.

Saw a nice catch of various salt water fish caught up Jordan River Saturday. The catch consisted of specks, croakers, small reds, etc. This should be good news to still fishermen. Of course a few hard crabs were caught also.

Skiing was on in a big way at Jordan River and Pearl River over the weekend. It's a swell sport to some, but a pain to those who fish up the rivers and are almost washed ashore by the waves from these boats. The operators of speed boats could be a little more considerate of others. The rivers belong to everyone.

Billy Scarborough is down from Jackson for a short vacation. He expects to catch up on his fishing and golfing while here.

For those who do not know, a flash light or spot light is no good for floundering or soft crabbing. A light is needed that will penetrate the water such as a gasoline lantern or the old kerosene torch which is still used by some old timers. The torch really does the trick but those carrying it will have to take a bath when coming in to get rid of the soot in the eyes, nose, etc. Have you ever used one?

Just a reminder. Remember that your fishing and hunting license expired on June 30th. New ones for 1963-64 are now on sale. Better get yours and be safe.

JOSEPH DI BENEDETTO

Our picture this week is of Mr. Joseph diBenedetto 92 year old hunter and fisherman. Mr. Joe as he is more affectionately known has fished and hunted probably more than any of our local sportsmen.

It is still an unusual sight to see Mr. Joe out on the highway bridge or up Jordan River by himself enjoying his favorite sport. He says it does not make any difference what kind of fish or size he catches as long as they go after the hook. He has hunted most every kind of game and is
